

What is Aphasia?

Aphasia is an acquired neurological disorder that affects language, but does not affect intelligence.

A person with Aphasia may have difficulty with:
talking understanding reading writing

Our Goal

We are dedicated to helping people with Aphasia achieve the highest level of recovery and participation in life.

Community Program

Our community program provides people with Aphasia an opportunity to express themselves in a social environment through supportive communication which improves overall communication with others.

A typical day at the Aphasia Center

Coffee Chat

Hot Topics

Supported Writing

Lunch and Language

Technology

Travel with Me

For more information, please contact 904 - 345 - 6780
aphasia@brooksrehab.org

A six week intensive comprehensive program is also available.