

People with aphasia have the right to:

DISCLOSURE

Be told that they have "aphasia" and given an explanation of the meaning of aphasia.

DIAGNOSIS

Have written documents that say "aphasia" is part of their diagnosis.

RESOURCES

Be told that there are resources available to them, including local and national organizations.

CONSENT

Give informed consent for research.

THERAPY

Have access to therapy with a qualified Speech-Language Pathologist.

CARE

Demand that health care organizations know how to care for people with aphasia.

ACCESS

Get information in the language they prefer, and receive culturally sensitive services, regardless of background