

Korean Aphasia Community

Website

한인 실어증 커뮤니티

What is Aphasia?

Aphasia is a language disorder that is often caused by stroke or brain injury. Individuals with aphasia may have difficulty speaking, understanding speech, reading, and/or writing.

Our Community

The Korean Aphasia Community is a group established by the Purdue Aphasia Lab in collaboration with Korean-speaking clinicians. Persons with aphasia from linguistic minority backgrounds, often encounter challenges accessing necessary resources and services. Our mission is to cultivate a supportive environment, facilitate group-based conversations, and provide resources to Korean-speaking individuals who are navigating difficulties associated with aphasia.

Meeting Information

All group meetings are held in Korean via Zoom (1x/month).

You can get further information upon contacting the staff member below.

Meetings are scheduled during U.S. daytime hours.

However, we extend a warm welcome to all Korean-speaking people with aphasia, worldwide.

Contact Us

Dr. Jiyeon Lee, PhD, CCC-SLP (Purdue Aphasia Lab)

Tel: (765) 494-3810

Email: lee1704@purdue.edu

Sally Min

Tel: (213) 495-0265

Email: min116@purdue.edu

Contact via KakaoTalk

